How to make an E Source Member Inquiry

As an E Source member, you can ask us questions, bounce ideas off of our researchers, or contact us whenever you need an impartial third-party perspective. You can ask questions about end-use technologies, energy-efficiency program design, segmentation to name just a few of the possibilities. The best way to get the information you need is to submit a Member Inquiry.

The Member Inquiry Service not only saves you time—we'll equip you with responses that include the latest independent, unbiased, and well-documented research so you can make better, more-informed decisions.

Submitting a Member Inquiry is quick and easy with these three steps:

1. Go to <http://www.esource.com/myESource> (you must be logged in to www.esource.com).
2. Click "Submit a Member Inquiry" on the right-hand side of the page.
3. Your contact information should be pre-filled, so just type in a subject line, your question, and your preferred time frame for getting the answer to your question. You can even specify the level of detail that you need.

After submitting a question, you should receive an acknowledgement that we've received your inquiry. In addition, you may get a follow-up call or e-mail if we need to clarify your question or time frame.
