Roger Woodworth of Avista Corp will be the keynote speaker at the 2012 Energy Efficiency Utility Summit -

BPA is excited to announce that Roger Woodworth, Vice President and Chief Strategy Officer for Avista Corp has agreed to act as keynote speaker for the 2012 Energy Efficiency Utility Summit. Roger Woodworth is VP and Chief Strategy Officer at Avista, the innovative Spokane-based utility founded in 1889 that now serves gas and electricity to customers in communities of Washington, Idaho, and Oregon. As Chief Strategy Officer, Mr. Woodworth works to identify new entrepreneurial growth opportunities for the company including innovative services, emerging technologies and other ventures that align with Avista's core energy business.

Given his senior strategic position at an investor owned utility, Mr. Woodworth can provide a unique take on the importance of energy efficiency to the region as a whole with an IOU perspective on the region's energy efficiency efforts and identify areas where IOU efforts and public power efforts could complement one another for greater regional success. We look forward to hearing Mr. Woodworth's outlook on the state of energy efficiency in the Northwest both now and in the future.
