Energy Smart Awareness Brown Bag Presentation of utility feedback on Residential Weatherization Specifications - Results from six sub-regional meetings held in June 2012 -

During the month of June, the Residential team met with six sub-regional groups of utility representatives to discuss the RTF's 2011 update to the Residential Weatherization Specification.

There will be two presentations on this topic. On September 13th the topic is covered as a Brown Bag. For those that cannot participate on that date, there is a repeat of this presentation on September 18th. This brown bag will provide a summary of feedback captured at the June meetings, present major themes and preferences expressed by utility participants, and provide details on BPA's next steps. These presentations are for all utilities, those who participated in the sub-regional meetings as well as those who were not able to attend... More

The DSM Barometer: Helping to Gauge Your 2011 DSM Results

Date: Wednesday September 26, 2012

Time: 11:00 am - 12:00 pm

In this year's DSM Barometer we compiled DSM achievements and expenditures from 40 utilities and conducted a deep analysis of the data. Although other entities present DSM goals and budgets at the state and national level, no one else is tracking comprehensive results at the utility level. If you're involved in delivering DSM programs, you won't want to miss this web conference!

You will learn:

Actual 2011 DSM results from 40 electric and gas utilities

Which programs and sectors are realizing savings

The general impact of the recession on programs and how some utilities embraced the challenging economy

How this year's results compare to last year's
