

Chief Joseph-Monroe Access Road

This project focuses on rebuilding a significant portion of the Chief Joseph-Monroe access road, vital for maintaining the 500kV transmission line. The primary goals are to ensure safe and reliable access for maintenance, operations, environmental protection, and wildfire response. The project aims to restore the road to full functionality, addressing potential safety risks for personnel and equipment and supporting critical infrastructure. It is being phased into three parts to manage construction complexities.