

E WA Series Capacitor Control Replacement

This project involves replacing the control systems for multiple series capacitor banks located at various substations in Eastern Washington. The existing control systems are outdated and no longer supported, leading to issues with serviceability and potential vulnerabilities. The primary goals are to restore full functionality and maintainability of these capacitor banks, eliminate security risks, reduce the likelihood of unexpected power outages, and ensure system compatibility and vendor support for the long term.