

BPA Energy Efficiency Weekly Announcement, May 26, 2016

Events

Brown Bag: HVAC Market Research + Momentum Savings Findings -

The HVAC market is ripe with opportunity to improve efficiency. Join us during the lunch hour on Thursday, May 26th to learn about what's new with the residential and commercial HVAC market! We will share our recent market research on what the industry is excited about, sales trends, how the market works, and market intelligence with opportunities for programs to boost efficiency in this market...More

---

Save the Date: June 22, Commercial Sector Program Design Brown Bag –

The content of this Brown Bag will be the same information that was discussed on the Brown Bag held on May 18. Over the past 12 months, BPA has been working with utility customers, regional stakeholders, and industry partners to assess utility needs and develop our next generation commercial sector energy efficiency program offering. Join us on June 22 from 12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m. where we evolve from program concept to an operational program design. We will provide a summary of the proposed program design, including timing and scope, implementation delivery methods, costs, and energy savings delivered. More information to come.

---

Reminders

Commercial Program Design Request for Public Comment -

Over the past 12 months, BPA has been working with utility customers, regional stakeholders, and industry partners to assess utility needs and develop our next generation commercial sector energy efficiency program offering. We have finalized a proposal for this program and utilities and stakeholders are invited to provide feedback on the proposed Commercial Sector Program Design. BPA will consider all comments as part of our final program design. More detail can be found on BPA's Public Comment Website.

