Program Updates

Update to DHP Form -

Residential HVAC found an error in its recent update to the Ductless Heat Pump form. In the Installation Information section, the verbiage "(in main living area)" had been removed under the Indoor Unit 1.

This language is deemed important by our Evaluation team, and the form is now updated to include this verbiage again. The updated form is located here in the Document Library.

Please contact ResHVAC@bpa.gov with any questions.

Reminders

Online Weatherization Tool -

Interested in learning more about weatherization? Bonneville hosts on line training modules on air sealing, insulation, ventilation moisture and indoor air quality, rigid and spray foam, window and patio door selection, and sales skills for contractors at <http://wxtrainingnw.com/> . Each training module takes approximately 20 – 60 minutes to complete and provides a general understanding of each aspect of weatherization. For more detailed specifications, our Weatherization Best Practices Field Guide provides detailed instructions for installing measures.

2016 Year in Review: Non-Residential Lighting -

As we wrap up the calendar year and look forward to 2017, the BPA Lighting Team wants to offer a heartfelt THANK YOU to all of our fantastic utility customers who helped make 2016 a year to remember...More
