Avoid vampires: plug your TV, cable box and video games into a smart power strip.

Idle electronics suck energy and can contribute up to 10% of a household’s monthly electric usage. Plugging equipment into a smart power strip reduces energy waste and saves money on your electric bill.