

This OS-14 rate proceeding will establish rates to recover the costs already incurred under the Oversupply Management Protocol, and any future costs incurred up to September 30, 2015, in the event the Oversupply Management Protocol is renewed after it expires on March 30, 2013.

Under BPA's proposal, Alcoa and the DSIs would be subject to rates developed in the OS-14 proceeding. Accordingly, Alcoa will be directly and substantially affected by any determination regarding the proposed OS-14 rates. No other party has purported to represent Alcoa's interests in this proceeding. Alcoa, therefore, has good cause to intervene in the OS-14 proceeding, and such intervention is in the public interest.
