

Transmission Services follow-up actions

Among the key take-aways from the June 30th workshop and before:

- What can BPA do to lessen the burden of the Technical Requirements for interconnecting or integrating Distributed Energy Resources (DER) of all sizes?
- Will BPA consider simplifying the request process?
- Can BPA find lower-cost alternatives to its revenue metering and telemetry packages?

Transmission Services' Actions:

- The Transmission Services team specializing in interconnection and integration policies and processes is proposing a comprehensive re-evaluation of our small resource integration process, procedures, and requirements.
- The team has begun getting management approval for resources to embark on this process. We are looking into the magnitude of the work and assessing the time frame involved.
