

NOTICE

Maintenance of the Bonneville (BPA) transmission system is a critical part of delivering reliable power in the Northwest. You may be seeing BPA employees or their contractors on the existing right-of-ways and on BPA towers performing this critical maintenance function. This activity does not mean that BPA has chosen an alternative and begun work to build the new line in your area.

There are certain activities that are important to analyzing the impact of lines along the various routes. You may see BPA employees or their contractors along the alternative routes collecting environmental data. BPA will use the right of access we have along the current right-a-ways and existing roads. BPA will ask permission prior to entering private property.

Please call BPA at 1-800-282-3713 if you have questions or concerns.
