

Nelson Springs Project

Comment period extended through Feb. 26

BPA is proposing to construct an office complex at 771 Pence Road outside Yakima, Wash. The facility will house the Yakima/Klickitat Fisheries Project research project staff, and will replace three aging buildings on the site. The new building will be energy efficient and constructed to meet National Flood Insurance Program standards. The project also provides for restoration of stream banks at the site that will improve natural floodplain functions.
