Reasonably Describe Records

Describe the specific record(s) you seek with sufficient detail that a knowledgeable official of the activity may locate the record with a reasonable amount of effort. Such detail should include: dates, titles, file designations, and offices to be searched.

Since most DOE records are not retained permanently, the more information you provide, the better the opportunity there is to determine if the records involved still exist and where. The FOIA clearly states that records must exist at the time the request is submitted.

I would like to obtain a copy of the computer program titled "Corona and Field Effects Program" that was developed by the Bonneville Power Administration. Our firm operates pipelines that follow or cross high voltage power transmission corridors and upgrades to these systems are having noticeable effects on reach and touch potentials of our equipment. A copy of this software will help us to predict induced EMF on our pipeline and improve employee and public safety. Thank-you for your assistance in this matter.
